Charlotte Post - April 30, 2010

Larry Kissell rubbed many Democrats the wrong way by voting against the health care bill, which could undoubtedly benefit constituents in his district, which was hard hit by job losses before the recession. While members of Mr. Kissell's party have sought his ouster over this singular issue, we take the view that he's been an otherwise solid lawmaker who deserves a chance to run against the nominee from a crowded – and boisterous – Republican field.
